Doings at Hot Springs

The colony of Washington and Baltimore society people now at Hot Springs is larger than it has been in some time. Both alike were particularly interested this week in the arrival of the "Canadian premier and his wife, Sir Robert and Lady Borden, from Ottawa. Both the premier and his wife are taking the cure here. They are about the Homestead Hotel a good deal, and the former has on several occasions played golf with John H. Topping.

When Mr. Borden was here last year—before he was knighted—he stopped off in Washington on his way home and for the first time met President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. The premier the other day had the assertion of the German Ambassador, that Germany could invade Canada without violating the Monroe doctrine, called to his attention, and was asked to comment upon the matter. He said he might give out a statement before he went home, but that he didn't think it was a subject that had been very much considered.

William C. Denny, of Washington, returned last Saturday night leaving Mrs. Denny here.

Mrs. T. DeWitt Talmage, of Washington, arrived recently with her daughter, Miss Rebecca Collier, to spend the season here. They had just returned from abroad where they were in Germany at the time war broke out.
